

Sennheiser Recent Applications

February 2010 - Sennheiser artists deliver riveting performances and win 17 awards at the 2010 Grammy Awards in Los Angeles

February 2010 - CTV employs over 60 Neumann digital mics for the recording of the 2010 Olympic theme song "I Believe" by Nikki Yanofsky with the Montreal Philharmonic Orchestra

March 2010 - Sennheiser has supported artists like Céline Dion during all her international career

May 2010 - Sennheiser is the microphone of choice for national TV smash "American Idol" for the third year in a row, reaching 24 million viewers

October 2010 - Swiss Television and production company tpc use Sennheiser wireless to stage a spectacular live opera broadcast from the Rhine river

September 2011 - Sennheiser's digital microphones used on the red carpet at the 63rd Emmy® Awards in Los Angeles

July & August 2011 - Sennheiser's digital shotgun microphones used in national broadcast of the 2011 U.S. Open of Surfing

January 2012 - Sennheiser supports "On connaît la chanson", a major TV show in Canada

January 2012 - Sennheiser opens its Technology and Innovation Center in San Francisco

January 2013 - ABC's hit comedy show 'Modern Family' uses Sennheiser MKH 8060 shotgun microphones, substantially reducing background noise

January 2012 - Sennheiser's MKH 8060 records the 'whisper of the stars' at the world's coldest inhabited place, Oymyakon in Siberia

February 2013 - Sennheiser brings unmatched sound quality and reliability to diverse performances at 55th annual GRAMMY Awards

February 2013 - Sennheiser helps Super Bowl XLVI reach over 111 million viewers with reliable RF wireless equipment, including halftime show with Madonna

April 2013 - The Juno Awards use Digital 9000 series microphones

May 2013 - Sennheiser supports Cirque du Soleil's groundbreaking, one night only production "One Night for ONE DROP" with its wireless expertise at the Bellagio in Las Vegas

May 2013 - The Eurovision Song Contest, the world's biggest non-sports broadcast event, uses 96 channels of Digital 9000

July 2013 - Sennheiser delivers flawless wireless audio to Country Music Association awards, as four-day music festival experiences record breaking attendance

July 2013 - P!NK embarks on world tour, powered by Sennheiser microphones

August 2013 - Sennheiser Digital 9000 wireless system used at U.S. Open tournament in New York City

October 2013 - Sennheiser powers the first large-scale wireless opera: "Invisible Cities" at Los Angeles' Union Station