

The benefits of Sennheiser wireless headsets:

Our wireless headsets allow you to get on your feet and on your way to a healthier, happier, more productive workday.

Hands-free mobility

Being hands-free means that you can multitask, not only at your desk but also anywhere in the office.

Full workday talk time

You can talk a full workday without having to recharge or worry about battery limitations.

Sound quality

Our headsets are certified and designed for business-grade communication, so you and your listener can focus fully on the conversation - even in noisy environments.

Long distance wireless range

This ensures that calls stay connected while you move, so you never miss a word during a call.

Better ergonomics

Our best-in-class ergonomic design and high-quality materials provide the personal comfort and support you need throughout the day.

Increased productivity

All together, these factors help you and your entire office with increased productivity, a clear head and peace of mind.
